

Our approach to tax

The Group's approach to tax is governed by our tax strategy which has been approved by the Board. Under our tax strategy, we manage our tax affairs in alignment with our commercial strategy, having regard to building long term shareholder value and to maintaining our reputation as a responsible taxpayer with tax authorities and regulators.

The Group aims to control tax risks to ensure that losses (financial or reputational), including any related to conduct of business matters, do not cause material damage to the Group's franchise. Risks relating to the tax aspects of financial crime compliance are the responsibility of the Group Financial Crime Risk Committee. Management of all other tax risks including client tax due diligence is the responsibility of the Group Operational Risk Committee. Both ultimately report to Group Risk Committee.

Our tax policy

Standard Chartered complies with tax laws and pays all taxes legally due in all jurisdictions in which we operate. We operate in accordance with our values and our Brand Promise Here for good. In the UK, Standard Chartered has re-adopted The Code of Practice on Taxation for Banks, which commits us to follow the spirit as well as the letter of the law in relation to tax planning.

We manage our relationships with tax authorities and regulators in a transparent, professional and constructive manner. We routinely seek feedback from Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs on our relationship with them and have shared our tax policy with them.

Standard Chartered contributes to the development of sustainable tax policy and legislation, typically through direct engagement with tax authorities, public consultation processes or in our role as a member of an industry group. We support tax authorities in developing their capabilities.

Across our markets, we operate as one bank. We are a global business and have substantial commercial operations in both high and low tax jurisdictions. Transactions between group entities are priced on an arm's length basis, reflecting the economic reality of the transaction in accordance with international standards and local government law. We do not artificially divert profits to low tax jurisdictions. Tax is considered as part of relevant business decisions and we only engage in tax planning that supports a genuine business purpose and commercial activity. We do not enter into transactions whose sole purpose is to minimise or reduce tax cost. Similarly, we do not promote products to our customers where the tax treatment is contrary to the intent of the law.

We are committed to combating financial crime, including money laundering arising from tax evasion. In support of this objective, we continue to review, and where appropriate enhance our existing approach to anti-money laundering compliance. We are also committed to supporting tax authorities in their efforts to tackle tax evasion by complying with client tax information regimes such as FATCA and the Common Reporting Standard.

Contributions to tax revenues

Paying taxes is one of the many ways we contribute to sustainable growth in local economies. Standard Chartered paid corporate income taxes of $1,151 million in 2015. In addition, we paid other taxes of $1,061 million in 2015.

Collection of taxes

As well as the taxes borne and paid by Standard Chartered, we also play an important role on behalf of governments as collector of taxes in relation to payments made to customers, clients and employees. In 2015, we collected $1,666 million of employment and other taxes on behalf of governments.

Country by Country Disclosure

In accordance with the Capital Requirements (Country-by-Country Reporting) Regulations 2013, set out below is the country-by-country information in respect of the year ended 31 December 2015.

The basis of preparation of the disclosure is as follows:

Country: The country disclosed for each entity is generally based on their country of incorporation. The country of incorporation is the same as the country where the entity is managed and controlled for most entities but where they are not the same; the country where the entity is managed and controlled is used. For branches, which do not have a country of incorporation, their country of operation has been used.

Number of employees: The number of employees has been calculated as the average number of employees, on a monthly full time equivalent basis. The location of employees is based on the location of the entities employing those individuals. For some countries (such as China, Ghana, India, Kenya and Malaysia) the numbers include employees of the Group's shared service centres which are located in those countries.

Turnover: This represents operating income in accordance with the Group's Income recognition policies. Intra-country turnover (i.e. turnover earned from other Group entities in the same country) is eliminated to avoid overstating the turnover in each of the countries disclosed.

Profit or loss before tax: This represents the profit or loss before tax reported in line with the Group accounting policies by the entities in each country. Intra-group income such as dividends received from group entities is included in the profit or loss before tax for the recipient country and then eliminated in group adjustments to arrive at total profit or loss before tax.

Public subsidies received: This relates to cash received in the year as a result of direct support provided by local Governments. It does not include any amounts received from central bank operations that are designed for financial stability purposes or operations that aim to facilitate the functioning of the monetary policy transmission mechanism. Furthermore, schemes in line with the European Commission's guidance on state aid are not considered as public subsidies.

Corporate Income Tax: This is the corporate income tax paid in each country in the 2015 calendar year. Tax on profits is paid across multiple periods and can be offset by losses from earlier periods. Taxable profits may also differ to accounting profits where tax law prescribes alternative treatment of items. Accordingly, the amount of tax paid in a year in any jurisdiction, may not be directly comparable to the accounting profit for that year.

Employer Payroll taxes: These are taxes borne by Standard Chartered as a result of employing staff. This does not include income taxes withheld on payments made to employees, which are the liability of the employee themselves and are merely collected by Standard Chartered on behalf of tax authorities.

Withholding Taxes: For the purposes of this disclosure withholding taxes only include those taxes which Standard Chartered has borne. It does not include taxes withheld on payments to external parties.

Irrecoverable VAT: This is the portion of the input VAT which is irrecoverable. Not all countries have a VAT system which is reflected in the entries in the table.

Other additional Taxes: This includes all other tax payments made in 2015 to authorities where SCB has borne the cost. Examples include the UK Bank Levy, property taxes and stamp taxes. The most material of these is the UK Bank Levy which is paid across multiple years and therefore the amount paid may differ to the accounting accrual.

This report is made solely to the Company, in accordance with the agreed terms of our engagement. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Company those matters we have agreed to state to it in this report, and to facilitate the Company's compliance with the requirement for audit of the Company's CBCR Information set out in Regulation 2(7) of the Capital Requirements (Country-by-Country Reporting) Regulations 2013, and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Company for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Directors' responsibilities for the CBCR Information

As explained more fully in the Statement of Directors' Responsibilities set out on page 3, the Directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the CBCR Information in accordance with, and for interpreting the requirements of, the Capital Requirements (Country-by-Country Reporting) Regulations 2013, for determining the acceptability of the basis of preparation as set out in the basis of preparation in page 2, and for such internal control as the Directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of CBCR Information that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibilities

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the CBCR Information based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the CBCR Information is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the information being audited. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the preparation of the information being audited in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates, if any, made by the Directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the information being audited.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the CBCR Information as at and for the year ended 31 December 2015 has been properly prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the requirements of the Capital Requirements (Country-by-Country Reporting) Regulations 2013 as interpreted by the Directors as set out in the basis of preparation on page 2.

Without modifying our opinion, we draw attention to page 2 to the CBCR Information, which describes the basis of preparation. The CBCR Information has been prepared for the purposes of the Capital Requirements (Country-by-Country Reporting) Regulations 2013 and may not be suitable for another purpose.
