

Best International Finance Centre Award for Jersey

For the third consecutive year, Jersey has received the accolade of ‘Best International Finance Centre’ at the WealthBriefingAsia Awards; positive recognition that continues to reinforce the global significance of Jersey.

Now in its eight year, the Awards recognise and showcase companies, teams and individuals which in the opinion of the panel of judges have ‘demonstrated innovation and excellence during 2019’ within global private banking, wealth management and trusted advisor communities.

Reflecting on Jersey’s winning entry, the panel of judges commented: “We were very impressed by the winner’s submission in this category which underlined and reinforced Jersey’s commitment to robust regulation and transparency and a progressive legislative framework to support global philanthropy, private wealth and investment activity.”

Commenting on the jurisdiction’s success, Joe Moynihan, Chief Executive of Jersey Finance said: “We are incredibly proud that Jersey has been recognised as the leading IFC for another consecutive year. It’s testament to the hard work the industry puts in throughout the year and our positive history in Asia, successfully promoting Jersey’s credibility as a leading IFC in Greater China since 2005. Asia has always been incredibly important to Jersey as an IFC and we have continued to nurture and invest in this ongoing and strengthening relationship. I’m very proud that Jersey has won this award yet again, and I look forward to seeing our links with Asia flourish well into the future.”

Tanmay Saha, Head of Retail Banking, Standard Chartered Bank Jersey reacted to the news: “Jersey being awarded Best International Finance Centre for the third consecutive year is an amazing achievement and recognises Jersey’s global capability and reach – a significant advantage in supporting our Priority proposition.”
