The shift to sustainable energy sources presents massive opportunities ahead

As energy demands continue to rise, the move towards cleaner and more sustainable energy sources begins now as we target Net Zero emissions.

The Manulife Global Energy Transition Fund invests in technological innovations to produce less carbon-intensive energy solutions that will be winners in the coming decades.

This is a timely investment opportunity for you and most importantly to power our future and your investment returns.

Global greenhouse gas emissions by sector

Net Zero = to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and/or to ensure that any ongoing emissions are balanced by removals.
